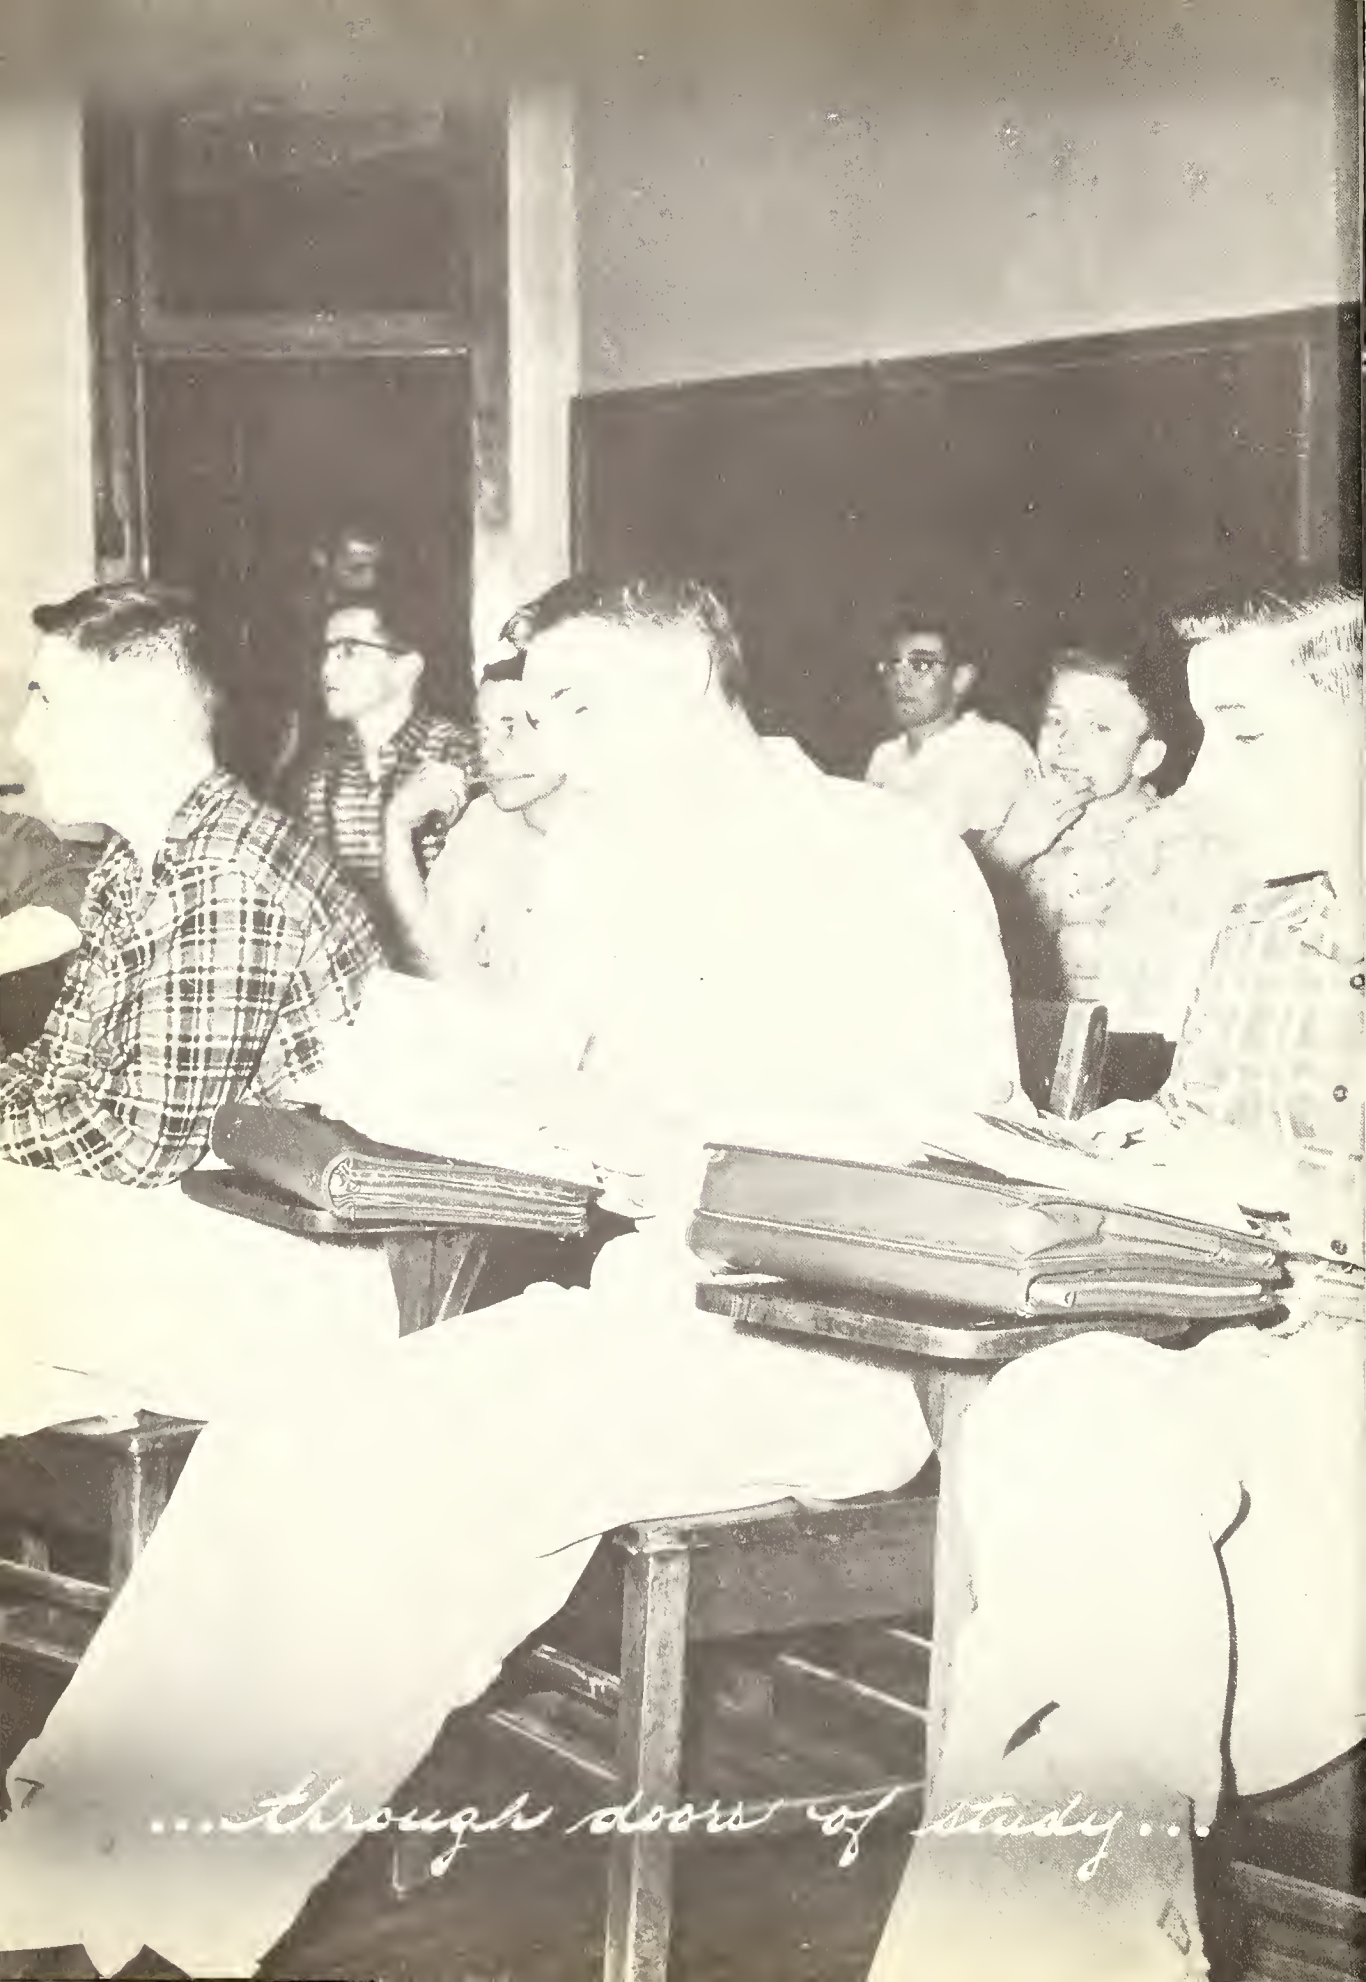
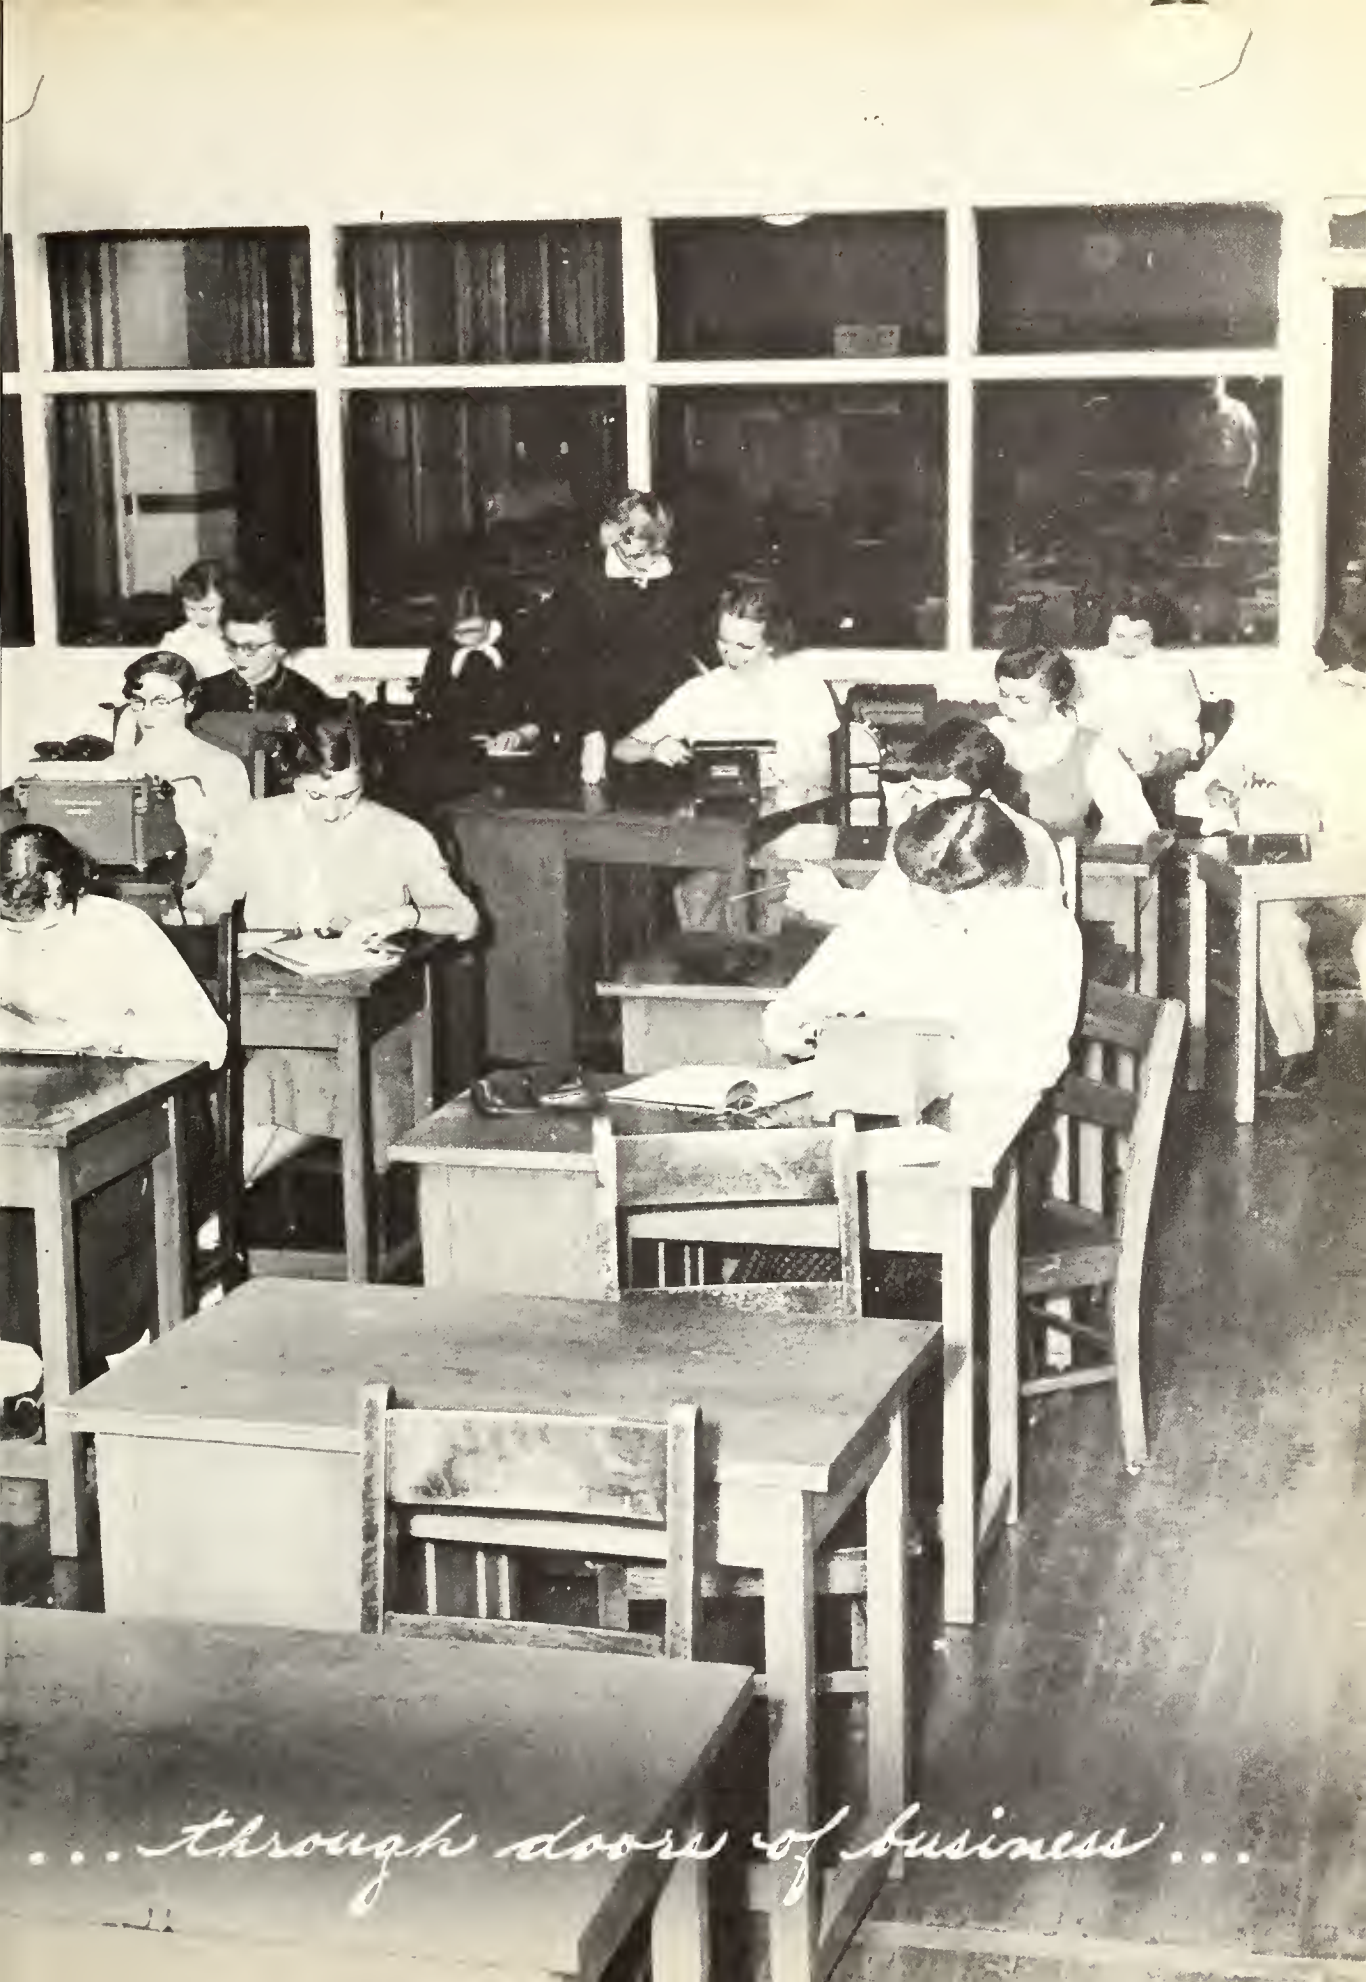
The Tiger of 1955

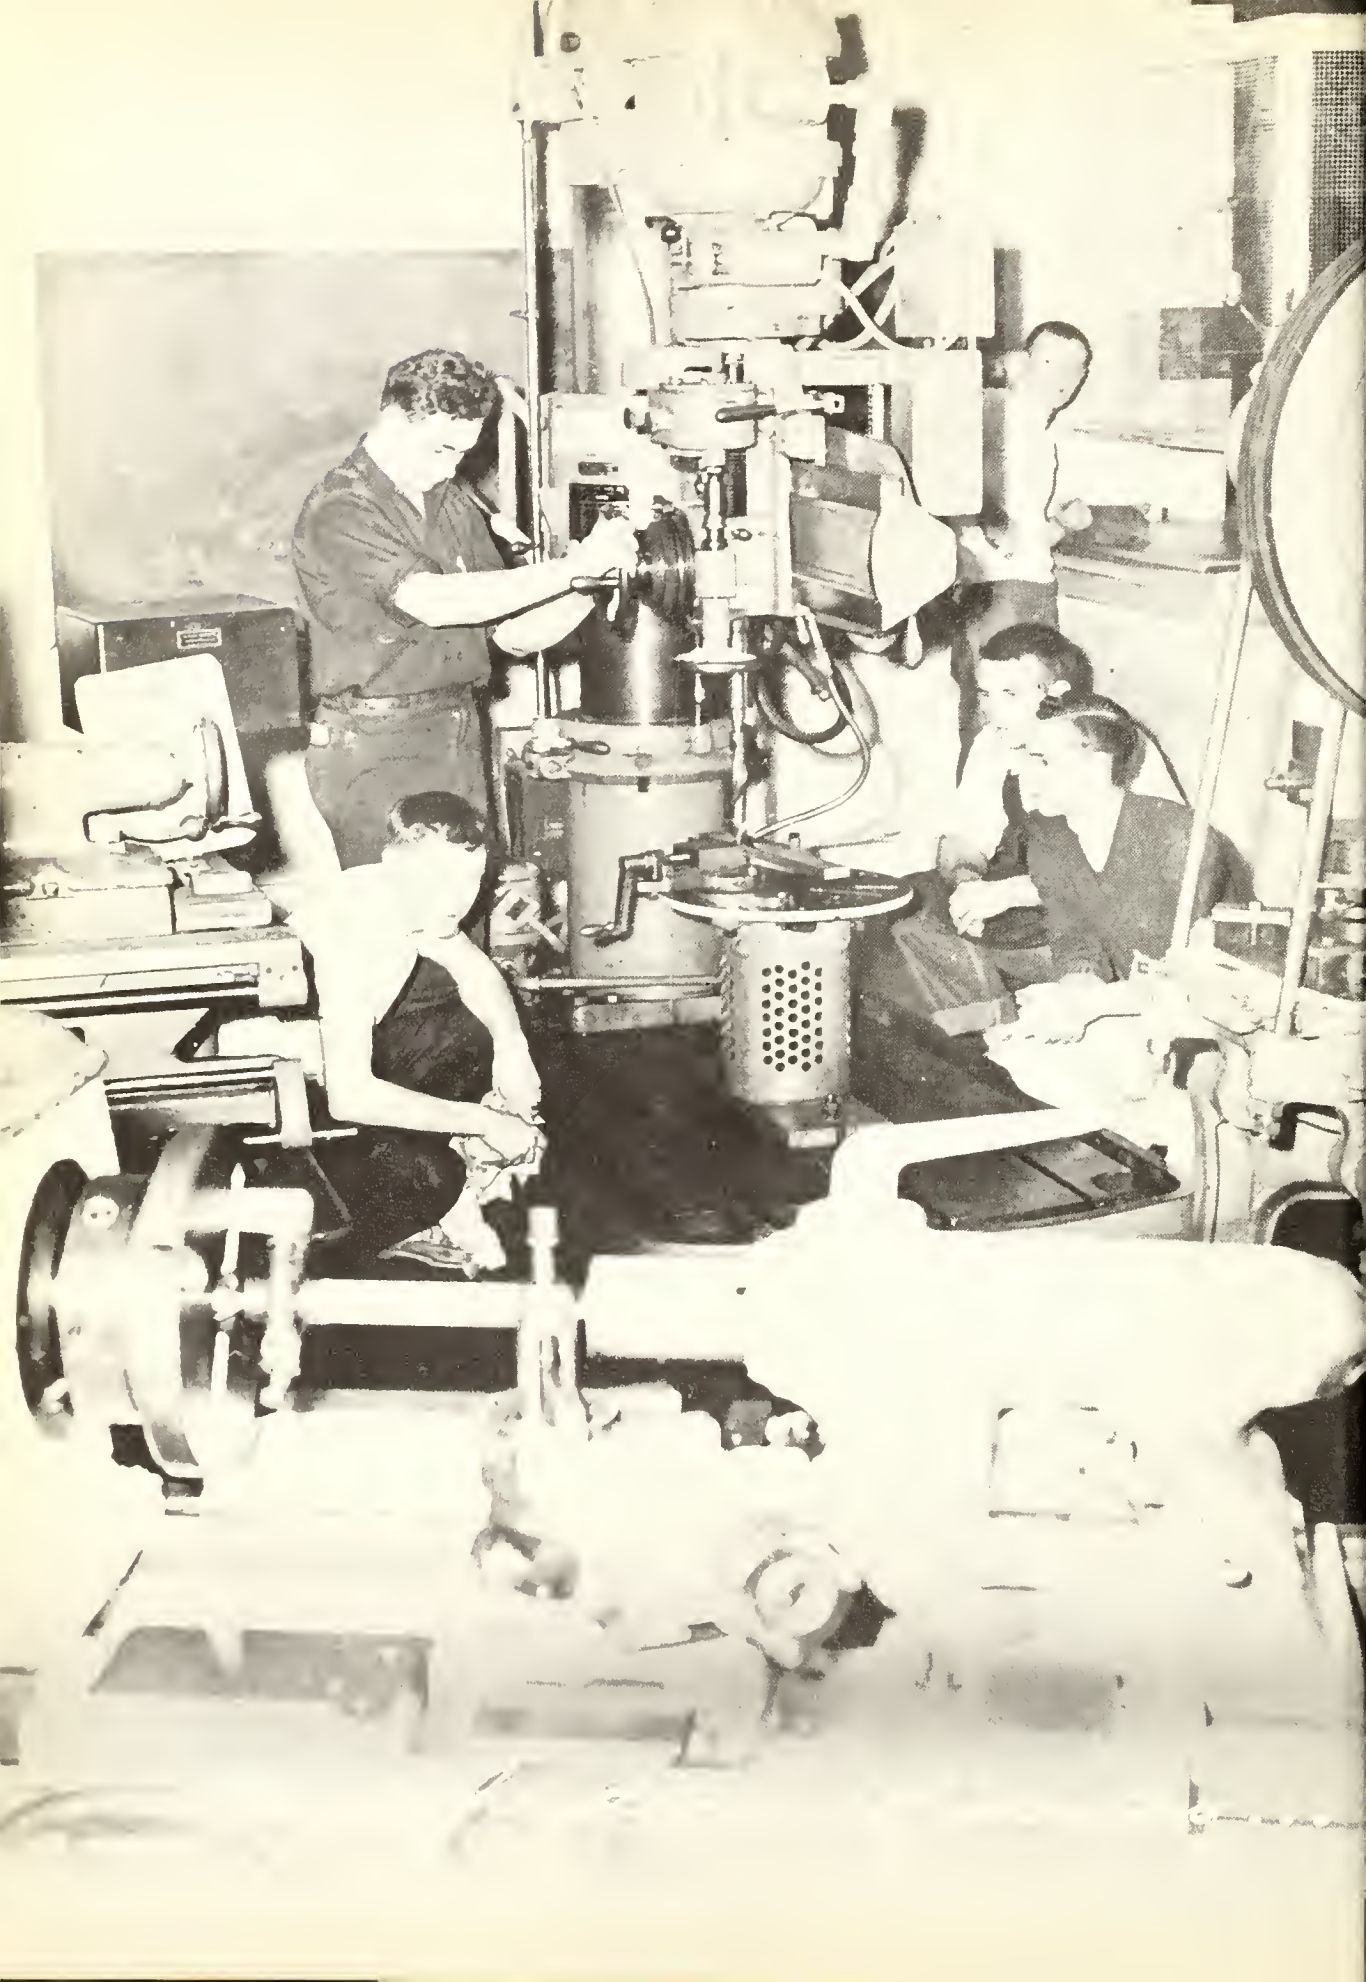
. . . advances through open doors . . .



...through doors of study...



...through doors of business...



...through doors of fun...

DEDICATION

Mr. Burt has been in our school for twelve years. This means that we were only little first graders when he first met us. During those years he watched our freckles and pigtails disappear as we became young men and women. Mr. Burt is a man whose courage, kindness, and good-will have made him a great success in all that he has done. That is the reason it is with great pleasure and honor that we, the class of '55, wish to dedicate our Tiger to Mr. Carl W. Burt, our Superintendent.

CLASS POEM

To you, my dear old Warsaw High,
Beneath God's gracious, clear blue sky,
We, the class of fifty-five,
Who helped to keep this school alive,
Wish to bid farewell to you,
And, I'll add, we'll miss you too.

To you, our teachers fond and dear,
We'll have to say farewell, I fear.
We thank you for the things you wrought
By good example, and also taught.
We'll praise and thank you more and more
When we approach that college door.

To you, old halls of Warsaw High,
The time has come to say good-bye,
And though our eyes are filled with tears,
We know you'll remember through the years
The sound of our footsteps across the floors
As we pass in and out your doors.

To you, fellow classmate by my side,
The door to your future is open wide.
There's college, career, and things untold
And then that someone with whom to grow old.
We hope that you enter the door marked success,
For 'tis then you will share life's happiness.

CLASS HISTORY

The yeor 1951 found o group of 156 freshmen gozing down o long corridor of four open doors. They decided to enter the first one with great confidence, for this wos their lost yeor ot junior high. This eoger, lorge closs chose Don Light to be their president with Lyn Menzie os vice president, George Knee os secretory-treosurer, ond Nodene Heitmon ond Suson Jone Von Osdol os their student representotives. When the student council met, Nodene Heitmon wos elected os president. This very enterprising closs hod o very willing stoff to publish their weekly poper, THE JUNIOR PRESS, which wos heoded by Mory Beth Hartmon os editor. Dorthy Campbell ond Jonie Newbouer were two of the five junior high cheerleoders. Ken Koontz ond Shirley Wolker won the first place prizes in the "Americo Lond of Opportunity" contest sponsored by the Americon Legion Auxiliory. Annie Steele ond Bob Moore won the second ploce prizes. The Nationol Honor Society wos formed in Worsow Junior High the lost semester of the 1951-52 school yeor. The freshmon closs boosted fifteen chorter members. The officers were oll freshmen; they were Lyn Menzie, president; Bob Burt, vice president; Jo Ellen Hartmon, secretory; Martho Jo Coplen, treosurer; ond Rondy Zuck, officiol photogropher. F.H.A. sponsored Courtesy Week in Jonuory, ond Lyn Menzie wos chosen os "Miss Courtesy". The football seoson wos o very excellent one for the Worsow freshman teom. It ended with six wins ond no losses. Thirty boys were out for this sport. During the basketball seoson the freshmon teom won ten gomes and lost four. The leoding scorers were Don Light with 100 points ond Jock Evons with 84 points. Thirteen boys plus these two were out. The freshmon trock teom had on outstonding seoson. It won its five meets and was the proud possessor of the trophy for the quodrongulor meet ot Plymouth. Twenty-one boys were out for trock. Don Truex got o "letter" for being on the high school trock teom. Eighteen freshmen girls were members of G.A.A. F.H.A. had o lorge following of freshmen girls. La Mar Rogers wos vice president of F.F.A. and Guy Alspough was secretory. There were only six freshmen members. The officers of the freshmen chorus were president, Bill Cryderman; vice president, George Knee; secretary, Bev Dolan; ond librorion, Mory Beth Hortman. The Junior Band won honors in this year. The three freshmen in the senior bond were Bob Moore, Allen Morehead, and Lorry Kehler. The yeor ended with the lost oll school porty in May. Lorry Elliott ond Lyn Menzie were crowned the King ond Queen of the porty. Bill Rentschler and his sister, Ginger, were oworded the Doncing Cup. And so brings to o close the lost yeor at junior high for the freshmen closs. They now close this door behind them with mony hoppy memories.

It is now September of the yeor 1952, ond we find o lorge group of sophomores entering the open door of their first yeor ot WHS. This group hod been the oldest, ond now they ore nothing but the "noisy sophomores" who clutter up the holls. This confused moss of sophomores elected Don Light os their president ond Fred Phillips os vice president with Lorry Pinkerton os secretory-treosurer ond Ken Stone ond Don Truex os student representotives. A troffic court wos orgonized and Bob Burt ond Lyn Menzie were the sophomore representotives on it; they were on the jury. Bill Crydermon ond Lyn Menzie were the sophomore chopel committee members. Harry Keffer won the Lotin Contest ond Corol Eggers wos second.

Although our sophomore boys were not the stors on the sport teams, they helped the upper classmen with the winning of the N.E.I.C. chompionship in football, boseball, ond trock. The home economics ond health ond sofety closses took o trip to Indionopolis ond visited the health buildings ond hospitols ond the mentol institutions. So brings onother open door to o close on this group of energetic young people in their first yeor ot WHS.

The summer months possed quickly ond in the month of September in the yeor 1953, the foculty opened wide o door to the now juniors of WHS. After o yeor of getting occustomed to the ways of WHS, they were now reody to ossume many responsibilities. They elected Fred Phillips os their president; Susan Jone Von Osdol os vice president; Jo Ellen Hortman, secretory; Harry Keffer, treosurer; ond Lorry Elliott ond Nodene Heitmon os their student representotives. When the student council wos orgonized, Nodene Heitmon was elected secretary. Rose Morie Hill wos o member of the WHS sextette, ond Rose Marie Hill and Phyllis Fowley were members of the WHS octette. During the F.H.A. Courtesy Week, Lyn Menzie was chosen as "Miss Courtesy" The junior class play, "HARVEY", scored a big success by th juniors in their first year of speech. The talented cast was lec by Bob Moore and June Westerman. Jo Ellen Hartman and Rose Marie Hill were the junior class members of the five WHS cheer leaders. In the Latin Contest Harry Keffer won first and Carol Eggers second. The varsity track team chose Jo Ellen Hartmar to represent them at the Conference Track Meet at Peru on April 30. Harry Keffer and Carol Eggers also got first and second respectively in the D.A.R.—U.S. History Award. The band and choir were doing a fine job in holding up the good standing of their department. All during this very busy year, the juniors were working like beavers at the games to sell a lot for the prom. Bob Burt, Jack Evans, and Lyn Menzie were the three junior beginning speech students to receive the Honor Degree in N.F.L. Bonnie Howard was first in the County Speech Contest with a humorous declomation and Lorene Melick first with a dramatic declamation, Jack Snell and Randy Zuck first in radio. Bob Burt submitted the winning slogan for the Centennial. George Knee broke the high school and track record in the shot put. Melville Miller and Thomas Tatner won the Indiana Industrial Educotion Award. Harry Keffer was the delegate to Boys' State with Bob Moore as alternate, and June Westerman was the delegate to Girls' State with Carol Eggers as the alternate. Jack Evans won the first prize in the American Legion Essay Contest, and Harry Keffer and Mary Beth Hartman the second prizes. Ken Stone received all state honorable mention in football. Ken Mollenhour's slogan was chosen as the one for American Educotion Week. La Mar Rogers was the delegate to Purdue for the F.F.A. boys. This year the band tour was through the East and they visited the Bell Aircraft Plant. The track season was very successful. We won second in the C.I.C. and first in the Sectional. In football we won six and lost two. Basketball was no so good as it could have been with thirteen losses and eleven wins. Jack Evans received the gold basketball. The baseball boys won six and lost two. The vocal music department put on a big concert entitled "Salute to Music" in May. Sondra Weirick was chosen to be "Miss Warsaw" Bob Moore, Jack Snell, and Phil Weaver applied for and received permission to go to Europe on the American Field Service Scholarships. They paid their own way. The Centennial was very evident around school; the teachers grew beards (mole, that is); and those of the boys who could grew one. The juniors worked very hard and gave the seniors a wonderful prom. Everyone enjoyed the prom, and with that another door was closed; and the juniors entered the summer knowing that they had only one more year at WHS.

September of 1954 found a large group of seniors entering the last open door in the corridor of learning at WHS. This group entered with all of the spunk and fire of a class that was going somewhere. They elected Fred Phillips as their President, Susan Jane Van Osdol as Vice President, Harry Keffer as Treasurer, and Jo Ellen Hartman as Secretary; and Nadene Heitman and Larry Elliott as their Student Representatives. As you will notice, this is a complete ditto of last year's officers. When the Student Council met, Fred Phillips was elected President, Larry Elliott, Vice President, and Nadene Heitman as Secretary. Carol Eggers received a D.A.R. Award. The Cross Country team had a successful season. The team won one triangular meet and three dual meets both of which Don Truex placed first. They participated in the Shortridge Invitational meet at Indianapolis. Don Truex placed first in the Conference meet and the team tied for second place. The team placed fourth at the Sectional. Don Truex broke the Worsaw Course Record of 9:30, set by his brother, Max, with the time of 9:28.5. There were twenty-two senior boys out for football this year and we had a very successful season. The season ended with seven wins and two defeats plus the Conference Championship. The team elected Fred Phillips, Harvey Hostetler, and Ken Stone as their Co-Captains. The vocal department put on a wonderful operetta entitled "Tulip Time". Jack Snell, Rose Marie Hill, and Ken Mallenhour were the Senior members who had a prominent part. Bob Moore was awarded the Silver Medal in the House of Representatives at the Peru N.F.L. Congress. The student body was privileged to have Ruth McFarlon here to entertain us this year. Our industrious class organized the Gamma Chi, the science club of WHS this year. Richard Warren headed the charter members and officers as their president. It was during this year that Fisher Field was given a new scoreboard. The Chamber of Commerce really worked to get donations and the two classes before us donated their money. Harvey Hostetler was chosen to be on the first CIC team and Larry Pinkerton and Ken Stone on the second team, and Guy Alspough on the third. Harvey was also selected to be on the second all-state team. Larry Pinkerton and Ken Stone received honorable mention.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, this brings to a close our fourth open door. The Prom, Baccalaureate, Senior Skip Day, the after game party will always remind us of the wonderful times we have had in WHS. We certainly have enjoyed this journey through "Open Doors".

CLASS PROPHECY

Bang! The doors of Warsaw High School closed behind us. Amid all our joyous shouts we didn't even hear them slam as we rushed out. Since then, twenty years have elapsed; and, as the class of '55 gathers in front of Warsaw High for a reunion, we notice that quite a few of our classmates' hair has turned prematurely gray. If our teachers thought we made them turn gray, they should see us now.

It is time for our reunion to begin, sa we all head for the door. But alas and alack, we cannot get it open. However, LARRY KEHLER saves the day, for he happens to be in the key-making business At night he is busy running the Kehler Keyhole Night-club.

As we enter the school, we are greeted by James W. Riley's successor, LARRY MILLER, who is now principal of WHS. During his years as a student at Warsaw High he spent so many hours in the office that he easily learned the ropes of managing the school. As we walk by an open door, we see PEGGY SHIDELER, the phys. ed. teacher, chinning herself to keep in form so she can keep up with her rowdy class. Between groans she tells us that LARRY PINKERTON, of Pinkertons' Detective Service, has been suspected of being a Red, but we know that he is just "Pinky." He is still going with SANDRA WEIRICK, who is the unrivaled Potato Queen (those beautiful eyes!).

As we continue on our tour, an old familiar object catches our eye—ye olde carving board. It reminds us of some of the couples who used to clutter up the halls. Among the carvings we find the names of SUSAN JANE VAN OSDOL and KENT ADAMS. They were going steady then and, after all these years, they still are. Deeply cut in the board we find BILL WYMAN'S name. We wonder if he is still the cut-up he used to be. Also reminiscing over ye olde carving board is a very distinguished gentleman, FRED PHILLIPS, our successful chemical engineer. Fred tells us that he and his wife are living in their eighth new house. It seems that little Freddie, Jr., likes to play with Papa's chemicals. Like father like son!

Buzz! Buzz! What do you know? We're having a program. As we head for the auditorium, we see ROGER SECOR, who owns a toy factory that manufactures toy flying saucers. LLOYD HOLBROOK is his test pilot. As we take our seats near the rear of the auditorium, we see EILEEN KEPPLER, who has a soda fountain all her own. Her motto is "Give the drip another dip." She tells us that DON LIGHT has changed his name to Dark. (Marty likes the "Dark" better.) The lights go down; the curtain goes up, and JUNE WESTERMAN, the famous Broadway actress, comes out on the stage. After a brilliant performance and a great deal of applause, our attention is focused on the well-known soprano of television fame, MARJORIE BUMBAUGH. In private life she is known as Mrs. John Vance. Next the spotlight falls on Eggers' Dancers. CAROL EGGERS is their "big boss." The star of the show is BETSY DALTON as chief fan dancer. (She always was kind of breezy anyway.) This is followed by the bouncing bubble dancers, MARY EISENHARDT and GWEN HALDEMAN. BONNIE HOWARD is kept busy blowing bubbles backstage. She has to work hard to keep up with TERRY BOLINGER, who is sitting on the front row throwing darts. As we leave the auditorium after the program, the lights suddenly go out. We are told that it is only WAYNE DEDERICK, up in the projection booth, playing Cupid with the lights.

The arama of roast turkey draws us to the cafeteria, where the cook, DORIS ANN BEIGH, serves us a delicious dinner with all the trimmings. She tells us that she is celebrating her 20th wedding anniversary. What's this we see? A public food inspector? No, it's just RICHARD WARREN, our scientist, examining each particle of food with a microscope before he eats it. We happen to overhear CARLETON WOODWORTH telling his wife, ROSE MARIE HILL, that he hasn't had such a tasty meal in ages. He has just discovered that his stomach won't let him live on love alone. Over in the corner we see BILL STOREY, with his portable bar, gathering quite a crawd. After finishing our dinner, loosening our belts, and settling back in our chairs, we see it is time for the after-dinner speaker. BOB MOORE, the famous senator, is introduced by his campaign manager, RANDY ZUCK. Bob is running for reelection under the slogan, "Moore, Moore, we want Moore!" Half-way through the speech GLEE BRATT and his wife gather up their children and leave because all the little Bratts were throwing spit-balls at Bob.

Finally, after three hours, his long, windy speech is ended. Drifting back into the hall, we run into an old classmate, CAROL SCHROEDER. She still hasn't gotten used to her name—it's such a big change from Schroeder to Schrader!

GEORGE KNEE and BONNIE GRUBBS have gone into the nursery business, but not the kind you think! Their business is called "Knee's Trees and Grubbs' Shrubs." Over in one corner we come across an excited group consisting of BILL MINNEAR, BILL SMITH, and BILL WARREN. They're working on plans to sponsor a national "Be Kind to Bill Week." What's that we hear? It is DON TRUEX running up the school's new escalator to keep in training for the 1975 Olympics. This is not as easy as it sounds, for the escalator is going down.

A loud roar, even louder than that made by our rowdy class, comes through the open window as LARRY HALE buzzes around the corner in his hotrod. He is followed by policewoman, CONNIE BRADT, on her motorcycle. Her motto is taken from the Canadian Royal Mounties, "She always gets her man." Her co-worker, ROSE MARY CLAXTON, is bouncing along in the sidecar. Her duty is to hand out all the parking tickets. Most of her business occurs late at night at the fairgrounds. Speaking of cars, here comes another one. MICKEY GOOCH is arriving late. Back in 1955 he had a flat tire while rushing away from school, and, after 20 years of careful planning, he finally saved enough to get it repaired.

We hear a crash and a tinkle of broken glass, and we run out to see what disaster has occurred. DAVE STARKWEATHER has smashed his car into a tree and fractured both legs and his skull. We discover that it is not serious, though; the tree has scarcely been damaged. JAMES PERRY, the famous tree surgeon, is called, and he tenderly bandages its bruises. He just finishes this job when a roll of thunder is heard and the rain begins to fall. We hurry back into the building and, in our haste, stumble over LOUIS MORTS, hiding in a corner. He shamefacedly tells us that, as Warsaw's official weatherman, he forecasted fair weather for today's activities. Because of his grave error, he fears he may be demoted back to his previous position as office boy for the Thunderstorms Department.

DAVE WILLIAMS comes toward us, pushing his way through the crowd. He proudly gives us a copy of the local newspaper. Dave had to start working from the ground up on the paper. However, he's making progress; he now has a route all his own. We see a picture of our old classmate, KEN STONE, and his new bride, a wealthy girl from Chicago. Ken always had an eye for figures. We see that another of our classmates has made good. The paper contains an ad for Millington's Millinery for Middle-aged Maids, DON MILLINGTON'S successful establishment. We also read that PHYLLIS DRABENSTOTT has become famous. She is running for the title of "Miss United Nations." We notice that another of the class of '55 is in the news today. SHIRLEY ELDER has just had her second set of quintuplets. Now she'll really go crazy trying to tell them apart!

ED WILLIAMS, the postman, dashes up to give us a letter. Ed was always good in the "post office" department. The letter is postmarked "Bermuda." Enclosed we find a picture of ANNIE STEELE in her Bermuda shorts. She says she feels more at home over there. She tells us that on the way over on the good ship, "Old Sievesides," she had an interesting experience. While taking a morning stroll, she stumbled over a pail of water. Beneath it she found JAMES CAREY, who was swabbing down the deck. He never gets "sea" sick because he sails only on the ocean. She also tells us that FRIEDL HAUPTMANN was the captain of the ship. He threw gay parties every night, similar to the ones that had been thrown for him on the way to America.

Hearing a sob from the library, we go to investigate. We see JULIA WARD, the school librarion, crying over a new book. The book is entitled Spilt Milk. She shows us another new book, which was written by EUGENE STORM, an up-and-coming young novelist. The name of his book is Gone With the Storm. Over by the encyclopedias we spy KENNETH KOONTZ industriously searching for the definition of "lascivious" in the dictionary. TOM TATNER'S re-revised, unabridged abridged dictionary gives the definition as "Marilyn Monroe." We pull a book from the shelf and are surprised to learn that it is an autobiography written by BOB and JOHN KAIM entitled the Kaim Mutiny. While in the library we glance at the titles of several more new books. One is How to Build Your Muscles by LA MAR ROGERS, and another is How to Fatten Your Hogs by DALE PHILLIPS and LARRY MOWRER. Say! What is that over there? We discover that it is only the library's statue of Venus in disguise. It seems that JO ANN ROBINSON, an expert seamstress, decided it would look better wearing clothes; so she made it a high-necked, long-sleeved dress. Here we run into BEVERLY DOLAN, who is now operating a beauty shop. She decided her peroxide would be cheaper that way. She always did think that gentlemen prefer blondes. VIVA "Carrot-top" LA FOLLETTE is one of her steady customers. She had her hair changed from red to green, because she still insists that the tops of carrots are green, not red.

We meet the famous magician, JIM KEETON, who tells us he has just completed his world tour. The act which won him most acclaim was the one in which he pulled HARVEY HOSTETLER out of a hat.

It seems that they are not the only members of the class of '55 who have done some traveling. DOROTHY CAMPBELL has just returned from Paris, where she is a model for all the famous French designers. She recently modeled a new frontless, backless evening gown which created quite a sensation all over the world. Dorothy stops to tell us that MARY BETH HARTMAN has been chosen the best-dressed woman of 1975. She had such a time trying to decide which of her one-for-every-day-of-the-year dresses to wear that she decided it would be easier not to wear any at all. We are honored to shake hands with HARRY KEFFER, the famous scientist who has solved some of the world's hardest mathematical problems. It is rumored that he takes his brain out every night and locks it up in a safe so that nothing will happen to it. DON SUNDHEIMER and JERRY WEIRICK, his brawny brain guards, watch over the safe all night.

Amidst all the gaiety around us, we notice PHYLLIS FAWLEY and MYRA HOVER looking very sad. They tell us that their boss, ALLEN MOREHEAD, has recently had a bad case of ulcers and has been taken to the hospital. It seems that the high pressure of modern living proved to be too much for Allen. He was taken to a brand new hospital—a drive-in type with "service while you wait." JEAN WOLFE is the head nurse there. She likes her job except for one thing—she has to empty all the bed pans. She can't get any of her student nurses to do it. NORELLA WOLFE also works in the new hospital as a nurse in the mental ward. Several of her patients are fugitives from the class of '55. DAVID ELLIS, the school's football coach, had to be brought here after a close game with Poduck Center. He keeps muttering, "We had the ball! I saw it!" Poduck's head coach, PAUL BAUMAN, comes to visit him every day. Once he even brought him some arsenic-flavored candy. A friendly rivalry has developed between the two schools.

We wander down the hall and come upon DORIS HELSER rummaging through a locker. She has started a "Keep Your City Clean" campaign and decided the lockers were a good place to start. She shows us an old, yellowed note that she found in the bottom of one locker. It appears to be written by ZENAL GROW. We bet this could be used for blackmail! Oh, what a rowdy class we were!

The sound of music (?) draws us to the band room, where the old pep band has gathered. They take up their tarnished instruments and, led by JIM POOR, give out with a moving rendition of "Warsaw High." We regret to leave but we have promised LYN MENZIE, the speech teacher, that we will visit her class next. In the speech room Lyn is teaching her class how to make campaign speeches, since she has been so successful. We find BILL DEAFENBAUGH and LARRY ELLIOTT sitting in the front row. Are they still in this class? We meet KEN MOLLENHOUR, who tells us he is now a famous radio announcer on station GOOF.

We walk into the newly established current events room. It has sound-proof walls and ceiling, a seven-foot screen TV set, and an ultra-modern radio, all donated by the "electronic brain" himself, JOE HOYT. On the radio we are surprised to hear the familiar voice of LILY MAE HUGHES, a current sports announcer, broadcasting the play-off of the world's most popular sport, tiddley-winks. The two contesting for world's championship are PAT JAY and LARRY MELLOTT. ELIZABETH PERRY is acting as referee for this exciting match. ROGER FELLOWS, a live-wire radio announcer, interrupts for station identification and a commercial. Roger raves about Burt's Burgers and claims that at BOB BURT'S burger stands you can eat dirt, cheap.

We meet JACK EVANS, the far-sighted mayor of Warsaw. He is trying to track down the elusive thief who stole his glasses. He thinks it is PHIL WEAVER, but he can't get near enough to tell. Jack tells us that MELVILLE MILLER and GUY ALSPAUGH are teachers in the machine shop. They lean out the window and whistle at the phys. ed. girls as they go down to the baseball diamond.

Back in the hall we meet JACK SNELL. Jack tells us he is now playing the piano for a new dance band, Parker and his Pens, owned and managed by CARL PARKER. He invites us to come to their next personal appearance, where Liberace will be guest star. Liberace always brings along his personal manicurist, NADENE HEITMAN. We also run into MARGARET HAMMAN, who owns a farm. She sells her customers ham 'n' eggs. TOM MILLER is her assistant. Near their farm is a used car lot operated by DEWAYNE WOLKINS, whose advertising motto is "Wolkin, Drive Out." Further down the hall we meet JIM WEIRICK, who knows the last word in airplanes—JUMP!

We journey into the typing room, where MARTHA JO COPLEN is busily engrossed teaching a handsome boy in the front row how to spell m-a-r-r-i-a-g-e. Here we meet DARLENE WARNER, who is in the corset business. Her motto is "Look darlin' in a Warner garment." NORETTA SHIVELY comes in to tell us the latest news. She edits a gossip column. Gossips are the spies of life! She gives us the latest dope on BARBARA WOLFORD, who has just divorced her fourth husband. We meet JIM COX and JIM SARBER, who have taken over the job of teaching health and safety. One teaches the students how to drive, and the other uses the victims as guinea pigs for his first aid class. The ones who do not survive are passed on to BASILE BLUE, the mortician. DAVE CASNER, who is also in a grave business, makes a killing by selling Casner's Caskets to the sad relatives. We find that ELWOOD TROY and LEON HORN are in the toy business. Elwood manufactures Troy's wooden horses and Leon makes toy fog horns.

We hear some strange noises coming from the gym, where we find BEVERLY PRISER teaching SONYA KENNEDY and AMOS ENGLAND ju-jitsu. They are now doing exercises to develop muscles in their little toes. They stop long enough to tell us that IRVIN HOAGLAND and BILL DEERWESTER are working in a textile mill knitting undies. JANICE HOLBROOK is their chief model. At the other end of the gym we see BETTY BAUGHER'S interpretive dancing class. Her willing but unable students are LARRY BOLINGER, CLAIR FORRESTER, and LANNY ELLIS. They are doing their interpretation of "Hold That Tiger."

With this, we leave the gym and start wandering back into the hall. Coming toward us we see JO ELLEN HARTMAN, the janitor, slowly pushing a broom. She worked so hard gathering debris for the High Times that this job is easy for her.

Along with the rest of the dirt, she sweeps the class of '55 out the door. The doors are locked tight behind us but each one of us takes with him the magic key to those doors—our memories.

WARSAW HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The Warsaw High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Bazil O'Rielley, spent a very eventful year during 1954 and 1955.

Our activity began before school opened. We marched in the Centennial Parade held during the July Lakeland Festival.

When school opened in September, it brought not only books and study but also marching season! We performed marching shows for each home football game.

Fall also brought many parades. Our black and orange uniforms were seen in the Halleck Day and Armistice Day parades. The uniforms stayed in their closets for the Halloween parade, however. Clowns, ghosts, and such were seen tooting horns that night. We also serenaded Santa Claus to open the Christmas season.

In November a change evolved from football to basketball games.

If you were to wander into the halls of Warsaw High School on any noon before a game, your ears would be met by a roar of music. Our pep-band built school spirit all year with their jazz, pep, and school songs.

In January, the annual winter concert was held, and following on its heels came District and State Solo-Ensemble contests.

New uniforms were a "must" for next year, so the "bandees" sold Curtiss Fruit Drops to raise money for this cause.

Also in March came the annual Fish Fry, held each year to raise the money needed for the spring tour.

Mr. Charles Henzie, of Butler University, directed the County Band Festival, held in April.

The annual spring concert was held in early May. This was one week before we left for the spring tour. This year the band journeyed west.

After four and one-half days of music, traveling, and fun, we returned to Warsaw High School, where we closed our eventful year with the Memorial Day Parade.

SENIOR PLAY

TIME OUT FOR GINGER

"Time Out for Ginger" presented by the seniors of 1955, March 29, 30, praved a reol hit with Warsaw theater patrons. This year's senior play cast had the distinct honor of being the first high school in Indiana to present this popular comedy, also one of the very few high schools in the nation to get the rights for production thus far.

The play cast considered themselves very fortunate in having.the pleosure of seeing the Indianapolis Civic Theater present this ploy. They also enjoyed meeting Mr. Robert Sittler, Director of the Booth Tarkington Theater and one of the critics for Notional Thespian Conference productions. The play cast felt honored in being mentioned in the Indianapolis Theater Program notes.

JUNIOR PLAY

SEVENTEEN

"Seventeen," a play by the famous Indiana author, Booth Tarkington, was chosen as this year's junior play. The action centers around the troubles of Willie, a lovesick seventeen-year old boy. Willie's humorous problems and the way he solved them made this one of the best comedies ever to be presented at Warsaw High. With the help of Mrs. Petrie and the cooperation of the cast and all the helpers, this play scored a big hit for the class of '56.

STAFF WORKS

The High Times staff has worked hard all year to bring the students of Warsaw High all the latest school news in a weekly newspaper. Members of the staff gather news of the various school activities--clubs, programs, parties, etc.--and print the

They spent many long hours after school preparing the stencils and running off the mimeographed sheet. We all owe these people a vote of thanks for work well done.

TRACK 1954

The track team of 1954 had a very successful season. The team was coached by two very capable coaches, Ken Norris and Frank Sanders.

The track team was moved into the Central Indiana Conference, after being absent from this conference for several years. While absent from this conference, the track team belonged to the North Eastern Indiana Conference.

The team did a very commendable job for its initial year back in the conference, finishing second to Wabash by a very narrow margin. Consequently, when sectional time came, the Tigers practically doubled the score on all competing teams, including Wabash.

A great reason why the team had a successful season was the fact that everyone worked hard and co-operated well.

Max Truex, who performed consistently, realized another of his ambitions by winning the state mile and setting a national scholastic record for the mile, in the remarkable time of 4:20.4. Gary Miller also did a commendable job of pole-vaulting and sprinting for the team.

Warsaw was represented by four boys at the State meet at Indianapolis in May. These boys were Max Truex, Don Truex, Gary Miller, and George Knee.

Returning lettermen include Don Truex and Elwood Troy in the distance runs; George Knee in the shot-put; Jack Evans in the quarter; sprinters Stone, Sensibaugh, and Lang; and Ellis and Thompson in the high jump.

BASEBALL

The Warsaw Tiger 1954 baseball team had a good season, winning six and losing three. They opened the season against Culver Military Academy and lost 3 to 0. They bounced back against Middlebury to win 8 to 4. They lost the next two to Logansport, 6 to 5 and to South Bend Riley, 3 to 0. They finished the season with a five-game winning streak. In this winning streak they defeated Atwood 9 to 3, Plymouth 10 to 9, Alexander 14 to 11, and Decatur twice in a doubleheader 5 to 0 and 7 to 0.

The Tigers lost 6 seniors by graduation. These were Ian Ross, outfielder; Larry Mulcahy, infielder; John McCoy, infielder; Tom Joyner, catcher; Bruce Jeffers, outfielder; and Bing Woodling, pitcher. In spite of these losses the prospects are good for another year. Among the returning lettermen are Terry Woodling, Bob Burt, Don Light, Fred Phillips, Dave Williams, Ken Stone, Larry Pinkerton, Kent Adams, and Jim Sumpter.

Bing Woodling was elected captain of the 1954 squad. Larry Mellott was elected manager.

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

The music fades; the stars grow dim;
The night too soon departs,
And though it dies, a memory
Is glowing in our hearts.

We floated to the Elks, all looking our best,
The boys in suits, complete with vest.
Then hurried to the Lake where the show had begun,
Some classmates were hypnotized, oh what fun!
Breakfast at the Legion, pancakes too;
I'll admit I was sleepy; now weren't you?

Then home at last to linger
In dreams of a perfect night,
To these memories now we cling
Of our prom—our final fling.
